8:30 am to 12 noon Workshop

Messiah Lutheran Church

21485 Lorain Road, Fairview Park, Ohio

Volunteering in an urban ministry setting means working across racial, cultural and socio-economic cultures. Such work can be a joy...and, at times, it can be frustrating because people are different. This free workshop will help you become a more effective volunteer by taking an honest look at cultural differences and how you perceive and react to them. Come learn and explore with other volunteers the issue of diversity and how best to cross cultural barriers for the sake of the Gospel and the people God calls you to serve in the city.

Register for this FREE workshop

no later than April 13 by contacting
